

January 2012

Kingfisher Capital, a global wealth manager and investment advisory firm, is pleased to announce that following a significant national screening process, SunTrust Investment Services, Inc. (“STIS”) has selected the Kingfisher Global Tactical strategy to be made available in the STIS SMA and UMA Programs, AMC Premier and AMC Pinnacle, respectively, and accessible to the institution’s over 500 advisors serving clients in 40 states.

Select Banks, Brokers, Independent Advisors, Family Offices and Wealth Consultants utilize the Kingfisher Global Tactical strategy both as a stand-alone, all-in one portfolio solution, and as a piece of an overall allocation, depending on client needs. Our unique strategy provides a tactical allocation to both developed and emerging markets in a single separately managed account.

Kingfisher Global Tactical seeks to provide investors exposure to global investment opportunities and earn a global equity return with lower risk characteristics. The strategy invests primarily in securities that provide exposure to U.S. and foreign stocks, bonds, commodities and currencies and employs its unique tactical allocation process which actively weights sectors, asset classes, and geographies with the highest risk-adjusted return potential. While the strategy does provide a diversified global allocation, it is not mandated to be fully invested, providing the flexibility to build strategic cash positions and utilize market hedging tools to alter portfolio exposure during different market conditions.

We believe most American investors are under-allocated to the faster growing global economies and overweight mature economies with increasing debt and entitlement burdens. Our global strategy seeks to provide investors the opportunity to participate in the long term growth prospects of the global markets without the volatility generally associated with investing in an international index fund.

Tactical investing is an emerging focus for family offices, investment consultants and other allocators of capital, as investors clamor for greater flexibility in participating in global markets and multiple asset classes through a single portfolio strategy. Kingfisher works with select advisors, consultants, and other institutional investors, as well as private clients. Kingfisher has one of the longest track records in this emerging investment style and may be an excellent fit for investors looking for a more flexible, global approach.

Kingfisher Capital Benefits:

- We have significant trading and execution capabilities across platforms and make it easy for our partners to utilize our investment services.
- Unlike a mutual fund, our investors have direct access to our management team for conference calls and meetings.
- Our portfolio is tax efficient and provides certainty and transparency to clients as opposed to a co-mingled fund account.
- And our trading software allows for swift and easy directed trading on our end, with nothing for the utilizing broker or advisor to worry about.

We invite you to contact us to discuss your needs today.

Sincerely,

The Kingfisher Team
